Entered in the Postoffice at Charlottesville, Pa., as Second Class Matter

It is unjust and unfair for men in his own party in Pennsylvania to assail A. Mitchell Palmer as a "shirker" and "incompetent." No man was a more competent promoter of things that never arrived than the Attorney General and he certainly never shirked "hollering" loud and long for more drastic measures to reach profiteers and seditionists. That he failed to notice the laws already on the statute books is perhaps a matter of defective eyesight.

The Kansas baker who was fined for selling his loaves unwrapped should have given the court the excuse offered by a Chicago baker last summer who extenuated a similar charge by explaining that the wrappers got so dirty he was ashamed to sell them.

Putting the Matter Plainly.
He was an old-fashioned father, which explains why he said to the young man: "Are you sure you're able to give my daughter the comforts and luxuries to which she is accustomed at home?" To which the young man promptly replied: "As your daughter's salary has paid the rent and bought most of the clothes and food for your family, I think we can worry along."

Great Advance During Century.
A century ago astronomers, geologists, chemists, physicists, each had an island of his own, separate and distinct from that of every other field of research; the whole field of research was then an archipelago of unconnected units. Today all the standpoints of study have risen together to form a continent without either ferry or bridge.

Once Was Enough.
Little Sterling had been taken to church to be baptized, and being quite indignant about the water being put on his head he remarked while coming out: "Well, I'll never get married again."

Porch Plant.
Save the top of a pineapple, put it in a plant jar filled with water and it will soon root. Then pot it as you would any other plant and it makes a pretty decoration for the porch.—Mothers' Magazine.

Judging by the Dogs.
"Don't you think a woman's appreciation of beauty is greater than a man's?" "No," replied Mr. Growcher; "not if you judge by the dogs they make pets of."

Rich Sugar Beets Grown in England.
Recent experiments seem to have shown that richer sugar beets can be grown in some parts of England than are produced on the continent of Europe.

Fail to Appreciate Coffee.
Although the greater part of the world's coffee now comes from South America, there are some states in that country where it is scarcely used.

Coral to Ward Off Evil Eye.
Italians, who are naturally superstitious, wear as a mascot a piece of pink coral, this being supposed to ward off the evil eye.

FRANCES WILLARD CLASS SOCIAL A SUCCESS

The social given under the auspices of the Frances Willard class of the Methodist church and assisted by the Home Guards, was a great success, both socially and financially. The social was held at the church Thursday evening, and the admission was one penny for every inch of waist measurement. A fine miscellaneous program occupied the first part of the evening, after which all adjourned to the basement where a fine lunch was served, which was followed by a social hour. Other attractions were a "Cabbage patch" where articles done up to represent cabbage heads were sold for a small sum, and a candy booth conducted by the Home Guards, which netted them $15.90 as their share of the evening's entertainment. The entire amount realized was $120.45, and this sum will be sent to Miss Rosetta B. Rodgers for her to use as she sees fit in her mission work in Mexico.

It will pay you to purchase for months ahead at Zeigler's Sale, 518 Fallowfield avenue. 267-12

CLERKS SUMMONED FOR RAILROAD WORK

Showing that the Pennsylvania Railroad proposed to be prepared to handle the passenger crew situation on its lines, it called hundreds of clerks from outlying offices to the Union Station on Tuesday. To have them prepared to take places on passenger trains as brakemen if their services were needed. Of this number 58 were from the offices of the Monongahela Division located at Uniontown, who reported as requested by their superiors. A singular feature of this phase of the situation is that for years clerical labor was practically one of the cheapest commodities the railroads had. In all wage advances they were generally forgotten, while the increases went to those who operated trains.

A telephone message this morning to the local Bell Telephone company office conveyed the information of the death of Theodore N. Vail, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Bell Telephone company and former president of the corporation. Mr. Vail died at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore this morning.

SUBSTANTIAL RAISE FOR DONORA TEACHERS

At a meeting of the Donora school board held last Friday evening, it was decided to advance the salaries of the teachers for the next year from 25 to 30 per cent. The plan as outlined by Superintendent Gilland on Tuesday is as follows: All teachers receiving more than $100 per month will be given an increase of 25 per cent; all those below $100 will receive an advance of 30 per cent. These advances will make the Donora teachers among the best paid in the county and the Board believes it will be able to retain its present teaching staff without a break.

WHY DRUGGISTS DIE YOUNG

Customers Like This Very Particular Lady Must Be Great Strain on the Nerves.

The drug store was filled with worried faces—prescription faces. All were eager for quick action and the druggist was doing his best to meet all the demands. A woman, the only one without a prescription in her hand, shifted back and forth until she got directly in the path of the druggist. "Wait on me, please," she said snappily. "I'm in a hurry."

"What did you wish?" "Some brisweed—canary bird. And I want the real stuff, none of this emulated brisweed—sand, cornmeal, sawdust and a lot of other stuff."

"But, lady, we—" "Oh, you can't fool me. I've been reading up on this brisweed graft. I read in a magazine where they were jamming all sorts of junk into this stuff we're feeding our poor little canaries. Think of cheating a poor little canary."

"But, lady, you don't understand—" "Oh, yes, I do understand. I want brisweed that has a glaze on it—the kind that shows it is fresh by its bright color. I don't want this gritty stuff. I know what I'm talking about. I've been reading up on it."

"How much did you want, lady?" "Oh, about a nickel's worth."

And the poor, old prescription-druggist fell in a faint.—Indianapolis News

DAYS OF CHIVALRY ARE GONE

This Hustling Age Seems to Have Little Time for the Merest Elementary Courtesy.

It was the hottest and most uncomfortable day of the summer and the car was even more crowded than usual, says the Indianapolis News. Two young women who had done their full share of work for eight long hours managed to squeeze into the car with the rest of the passengers. Of course all the seats were taken. Even a suggestion that some one offer the girls a seat was far from their minds. They stood in the aisle, as good-naturedly as they had done nearly every day in months past. One can imagine their surprise when an elderly man rose to offer one of the girls a seat.

"Take my seat, lady," he said, "you look lots more tired than I." Gratefully, one of the girls started for the seat. A tall broad-shouldered man was just ahead of her.

"Now, yuh don't," he snarled, "I guess I'm nearer the seat than you are," and he started to sit down.

"Well, I guess if you are going to take the seat I may as well keep it until I am ready to get off," the first man said, and with that he sat down again.

Two blocks later he got off the car, the tall broad-shouldered man rushed to the seat and the young women held on to the straps.

More Than Her Mouth.
Although the groundhogs at the "Zoo" did their best to keep the spring day away from their fine park and playground for the people, time will bring spring within a few weeks now, at the worst. Time has a way of making things move.

Although crowds at the National Zoological park have fallen off materially during these cold winter days nevertheless many visit the park every Sunday. Much attention is given the animals kept indoors, naturally.

Thus the mother hippopotamus has her admirers. Recently two small boys, that good sort that shy rocks at cats and sparrows, were standing in front of the hippopotamus cage, watching Mrs. Hippo eat hay.

"Look at 'er open 'er mouth!" said one boy, lost in admiration.

"Mouth nothin'" exclaimed the other, "That ain't 'er mouth—it's 'er whole head she's openin'!"—Washington Star.

Tomb Was Tramp's Home.

A tramp who had solved the present day problem of where to live by taking up his abode in one of the old Roman tombs at Arles, on the Rhone, gave two Dutch tourists the fright of their lives.

They had gone out to see the remains by moonlight, when suddenly out of a tomb emerged a human form, which the moon caused to appear exceedingly ghastly. The tourists fled at top speed for the town, declaring that they had seen a resurrection. The "ghost" was interrogated by the police and will be prosecuted for the French equivalent of wandering without visible means of subsistence.—From the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

Master Charles Wyndham Potter accompanied his grandfather, Capt. Charles A. Wyndham, to the river at Evansville the other day to see that the elevator, boats, barges and coal were all right.

"Grandfather," remarked Charles, "why do they call dirt mud when it's wet, and dust when it's dry?"

No reply from grandfather, who is still thinking about the answer.—Indianapolis News.

Thoroughly Selfish.

"Do you know what I'd like?" said the first road hog.

"No, what would you like?" said the second porcine person.

"I'd like to have a motorcar so big there wouldn't be room on the broadest boulevard for anything to pass me but a breeze."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Money Back If It Fails

"No matter how chronic, acute or long standing your Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, Sciatica or Stiff Eriopont, may be, here at last is positive relief. If it fails, you will not lose a penny, for we will refund your money without question. Read this remarkable case: 'It is with great pleasure that I am writing you of the wonderful merits of SLEFLUID for Neuritis. My wife has been a terrible sufferer for three years from this disease and could not walk without the use of braces. Her joints were swollen to twice their normal size. Her pains were agonizing. For two years she was helpless. After using SLEFLUID, you can imagine my surprise last evening when she walked from her chamber to the parlor in her stocking feet, the first time in three years she has been able to bear weight on her feet without the use of braces. Thinking this would please you, I am respectfully, BERT P. WALKER, New York City. SLEFLUID is not a medicine. It is used as a bath and is exactly the same as you get in the famous Hot Sulphur Springs resorts. It is absolutely harmless. A complete treatment will drive all pain away. Try it. If it fails we will refund your money. Booklet on request."

What Does "Kitchen Economy" Mean? Is it Found in Your Home?

"A great many" people thinks that "Kitchen Economy" means cooking without waste and they would be partly right—but only partly.

True Economy means making every dollar spent produce its utmost return in value. That's why is real economy. Churned in whole pasturized milk from Wisconsin's best dairies. It is rich in nourishment, tastes like fresh churned butter and has even higher food value than butter. Every food expert acknowledges this. Try Ev-Re-Day Margarine, the kind that has fresh butter taste and cuts your butter bills in half.

For those who prefer Nut Margarine. Best NUT MARGARINE is free from animal fats and churned by the best sanitary methods known by Wisconsin Butterine Co., Milwaukee, Wis., whose Motto is Cleanliness, Purity, Quality.

Dogs Poorer Spies Than Foxes.

The fact that foxes make cleverer spies than dogs was discovered centuries ago by the Japanese. For generations they trained foxes to help them in their civil war. Their cleverness is best shown when the fox is working with his master when the latter is spying. This is the kind of thing these trained foxes will do. When a spy, for example, comes to a cliff he cannot climb he puts the end of a rope in the mouth of the fox and the animal finds its way up the cliff where no human being could get unaided. When it reaches the top it goes to the nearest tree and walks round and round it, with the rope in its mouth and holds it to prevent it slipping while his master climbs up. The Japanese foxes have a much keener sense of smell and hearing than any other, and for this reason Japanese sentries often have one by their side to give them warning of the stealthy approach of anyone.

As to Color Blindness.

It is a rather common belief that the man who fails to pass the test for color blindness during an examination for employment on a railroad, is one who mistakes red for green, or green for red. The trouble is that he cannot distinguish the difference between the two. Thus while a red postage stamp lying on a green tablecloth would be perfectly obvious to a person with normal sight, owing to the contrast in color, it would be hardly visible to the color blind. There are various degrees of color blindness and while the majority of persons can recognize six or seven colors in a rainbow others can see only five or less. Persons who can see but two distinct colors are dangerously color blind. A good test of your eyesight is to endeavor to match wools.

Seemingly Immune to Fire.

A lady described as "the official medium of the London Psychological Society" has publicly demonstrated her powers of fire-dancing, when she ascribes to being controlled in her trances by the spirit of a Parshee fire worshiper. Chabert, "the Fire King" who was a popular favorite in London close to a century ago, used to rub a red-hot shovel on his face and head, and allow anyone in the audience to step on the platform and drop molten sealing wax on his tongue and hands. He would take a raw leg of mutton into an oven heated to 220 degrees, remain inside until the joint was cooked then carve it into slices which were distributed among the spectators.

Crack Drive Off the Tee.

Golfers have their differences like other sportsmen. Up to the present the question as to the distance of a crack drive off the tee, for example, remains unsettled. By dint of careful measurement it is asserted that 200 yards is a very good drive, and that it is only the crack players who can cover the 250. Two hundred and fifty yards is, however, a very long distance, and just about twice as far as even the dearest of us can throw a cricket ball. One hundred and forty yards is the record distance for throwing a cricket ball. A competitor in the Olympic sports has thrown a javelin just over 211 feet. With a sling a stone has been thrown more than 800 yards.

Plants Sweeter Than Sugar.

Several ounces of dried leaves and a small quantity of seed of a wild plant but is about 180 times as sweet as sugar reached Washington, from Paraguay. It is called ka lea, and its botanical name is stevia rebaudiana. Another strange plant is the agharup (cissampelos dufrenoyi) of southern Nigeria the fruits of which are only slightly sweet but have the peculiar property of making the sourest substances, such as limes, lemons, unripe fruits, or vinegar, eaten within 12 hours or so afterward seem intensely sweet.

The sixteenth century is called the "Tragic Century" on account of the great number of deaths occurring in it. The whole world was swept by plagues throughout the hundred years. Pestilence nearly depopulated China, and raged throughout Germany, Holland, Italy, Spain, England, France and Russia. The "sweating sickness" which broke out in England in 1506, caused the death of nearly one-half the population of the large cities of the country. The century was also noted for its many wars.

Italy Turning to Water Power.

The generation of electrical energy by means of water power is a rapidly expanding industry in Venice. The difficulty in which Italy found itself as a result of war in obtaining sufficient supplies of coal has emphasized the necessity for a maximum utilization of hydraulic resources. Steps are now being taken to extend the use of electricity in agriculture, drainage, irrigation, traction and canal excavation.

TUESDAY NIGHT BURGLAR IS NOW IN THE CHARLEROI LOCKUP

Arrested In Donora On Thursday By Constable Titus

IS WANTED IN MONONGAHELA

Albert Sowinski, of Monessen, a self-confessed burglar, is in the lock up at the police station while the Charleroi police make a further investigation of his activities during the past few months. The local police believe they have an important prisoner in Sowinski and every effort will be made to ascertain more about him before his case is finally disposed of.

Sowinski is the man who robbed the Masters' and Doerzbacher grocery stores, the Henning drug store and Carl Mountsier's office on Tuesday night. He has confessed to these burglaries, after being confronted with evidence found on his person in the way of a pocketbook taken from Henning's drug store.

Sowinski continued his activities in Monongahela, on Wednesday, and this ultimately led to his arrest. He was discovered in the clothing store of Franz and Teschke there, and refusing to surrender was shot through the left hand by Chief Farnicott. Sowinski had gained his entrance to the store by means of a cellar window, when he was discovered by a night officer, who summoned the Chief and an effort made to arrest him. He managed to make his escape however, by going to the upper floors of the building and escaping over the roofs, after he was wounded.

Police of adjoining towns were notified, and told to be on the lookout for a man possibly wounded. Thursday morning Dr. Rupert of Webster created a man who was shot through the hand. Being questioned, he said he had been injured in the mill. The man left and then Dr. Rupert notified the Donora police. Constable Titus visited the Pennsylvania station there and seeing a man with his hand tied up, asked how the accident happened. Being told the same story as told the physician, he took the man into custody and locked him up. Donora physicians examined the wound and pronounced it due to a gunshot wound. The Monongahela police were notified and the prisoner taken there, where he was arraigned before Alderman Flood on a charge preferred by Mr. Teschke, of the Frantz & Teschke firm. The man admitted being in the store, for the purpose of robbery.

While the hearing was on Officer Murphy of Charleroi, accompanied by County Detective Laird, appeared at the alderman's office and asked permission to bring the man to Charleroi, as they believed he was the man they wanted for burglaries here. Accordingly he was surrendered to them and placed in the local jail last night for further investigation.

The Coming Chautauqua Will Have A Fine Program

This season's Chautauqua program, as announced from the Redpath offices in Columbus, is out to eclipse in popularity any previous offerings in community entertainment. Opening with the College Singing Girls and Roscoe Gilmore Scott, humorous speaker, the week includes an array of headliners that spells success.

One of the most pleasing announcements is regarding "It Pays to Advertise," a high speed comedy to be presented on Chautauqua's sixth night. Another star attraction is found in Ralph Dunbar's Royal Dragons, a singing band of 18 pieces. The Great Lakes String Quartet and Sir Jno. Foster Fraser of London are scheduled for the third and fourth nights, respectively. Among other individual stars are Adrian M. News in "To Him That Hath," Detective Harry J. Loose of Chicago, Dr. Robert MacGowan of Pittsburgh and Ethel Hinton (fun-maker) and "Her College Gang."

This is to be a gay year for the boys and girls. In addition to the usual play and story hours there are to be numerous features especially for their benefit. The headliner of the Pamahas ka and his performing pets. This performance takes place on the Chautauqua's last afternoon and will introduce domestic and tropical birds, house cats, a monkey comedian and an educated pony, Prince Tiny. For this entertainment alone the Chautauqua is carrying a ton of baggage, the owner-manager and two assistants.

Dates of the Chautauqua are expected within the next two or three weeks.

AGENT SAVES THE FREIGHT SITUATION WILL KEEP UP BY-PRODUCT SUPPLY

J. W. McElravy, freight agent of the P. & L. E. railroad at Monessen, was faced with an awkward situation Monday morning but which he handled in a manner which pleased the patrons of the road.

There were eleven cars of general merchandise located at various points in the Monessen yard at that time, goods that were badly needed by local merchants. Due to the strike on the Lake Erie it was impossible to have any shifting done, and the cars had to be unloaded wherever found. Securing the services of a truck at railroad expense and accepting the offer of a number of others, the task was begun Monday forenoon of unloading the merchandise. Such progress was made that Tuesday morning the last car was relieved of its freight and the situation saved. In many instances very heavy and awkward packages had to be carried quite a distance because of the location of cars, but the job was completed in good shape.

DONORA POLICE ARREST AN I. W. W. AGITATOR

The man was taken to Pittsburgh, where he was turned over to the government authorities.

MRS. BLANCHE McMAHON DIES IN PITTSBURGH

Word was received in Charleroi this morning of the death of Mrs. Blanche Ruggles McMahan, widow of the late William McMahan, which occurred at the Presbyterian hospital, North Side Pittsburgh at an early hour this morning. The remains were brought to Charleroi this afternoon and announcement of funeral made later.

TRAFFIC ON LOCAL RIVER INCREASING

Federal engineers of the Pittsburgh district on Monday issued the commercial report of the three rivers for the month of March. Among the outstanding features is the increased tonnage of the Monongahela river, with a total of 1,855,214 tons, an increase of more than 180,000 tons over that of February. On the Allegheny river an increase of 13,000 tons over that of the previous month was shown. In regard to the Monongahela river the figures are interesting, because all of the tonnage originated along its shores and the figures given are from the mouth of the stream to Point Marion, a distance of about 90 miles, making this river one of the principal tonnage carriers of the United States.

Mangan-Temple

Miss Katherine Mangan, formerly of Charleroi, and Charles R. Temple, of McKeesport, were quietly married this morning with early Mass at St. Pius church, McKeesport, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father Rea. Only the immediate members of the family were in attendance. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Mangan, now residing in McKeesport. The bride was one of Charleroi's most popular girls, and prior to her marriage was employed at the office of the Cudahy Packing company in Charleroi. Mr. Temple is one of McKeesport's most popular young business men and has a host of friends in that city. He holds a responsible position with the Cudahy Packing company, being in their employ for the past ten years. Immediately following the wedding breakfast the bride and groom left on an extended trip for Cleveland and other western points. They will be at home to their many friends after May 1st at 904 Union avenue, McKeesport.

Fuel and Finished Products Are Being Transported By River

FREIGHT ALSO TO MERCHANTS

Thursday afternoon the steamer Iron City and the gasoline boat Arvon left the Pittsburgh wharf for upper points, loaded with groceries and vegetables for Point Marion, Morgantown and Fairmont, as well as other points in the upper pools. This was the first freight shipment of this character on the Monongahela made in a number of years, but it was a life-saver to many merchants in the upper valley, whose freight shipments have been cut off for the past week by the railroad strike.

At the Edgar Thomson plant, Braddock, this afternoon, a big barge was loaded with mill products and shipped to Pittsburgh, where it will be unloaded and the material distributed to a number of warehouses. The Pittsburgh Steel company is also utilizing the river to transport fuel from their mines at Alicia to the Wireton dock, while deck barges are being loaded with steel products for transportation to Pittsburgh and vicinity.

The Carnegie Steel company is utilizing the Monongahela river to the full extent of their present water transportation facilities. Not only coal for the by-product plant at Clairton, but likewise coke from the lower Connellsville field. The coke is loaded in big steel barges, and a number of their towing steamers are engaged in making a express runs between the ovens and Clairton, where it is unloaded for distribution to the furnaces in the lower valley. These boats take two barges each, and the round trip is made in record-breaking time.

All other mill industries that have river connections and equipment are utilizing them in the present crisis to the extreme capacity of the facilities in order to overcome the shortage of commodities caused by the cessation of railroad freights.

If the Ohio river was canalized for its entire length all of the mills could get along very well for a considerable period of time without any material assistance from the railroads. If iron ore and limestone could be secured by river, the furnaces would be practically independent of rail transportation. The present flare-up in railroad circles has emphasized the importance of water transportation, and it need not be surprising if other big industries make arrangements to secure such connections.

NO PASSENGER SERVICE ON LAKE ERIE

There was no passenger service on the Monongahela Division of the P. & L. E. this morning, and the east side mail service is being handled on the Pennsylvania for the time being.
